How Clean'Move works

The Clean'Move driver makes it possible to navigate any existing applications using gesture. Use one hand to guide your mouse on screen and use your other to push forward and "click." The driver will detect and focus on the primary user in environments where there are multiple people present.

Kinect™ for Windows® uses infrared technology to sense movement. It tracks from approximately 2 to 15 feet, and works with any lighting environment. Kinect™ for Windows® is also capable of both voice and facial recognition, features which can be integrated as part of a custom application* project with AFTER-MOUSE.COM.
